Make Your Own Infographic

An infographic uses pictures to present information.
Follow the steps below to make an infographic about any topic you choose.

Part I. Gather Your Information

1. Decide what the main idea of your infographic will be. Your main idea can be a statement (like "Octopuses are very smart") or an opinion that you will support with facts (like "Our school should serve chocolate milk at lunch"). Write your main idea in one sentence here:

2. Do some research to find facts to support your main idea. You can look in books, magazine articles, or on the internet. Write your supporting details below, along with their sources (where you found them) and notes about what kinds of pictures would best show the supporting detail.

Supporting Detail 1: _____

Source: _____

Picture: _____

Supporting Detail 2: _____

Part II. Make Your Infographic

3. You're ready to go! Look over the information you have and choose the three best supporting details. Use the space below to design your infographic. Then create your infographic on a poster board or a large sheet of paper. For your images, you can use your own photographs or drawings, or you can cut pictures out of magazines. Use the infographics in Storyworks Jr. as a model.
